

World Enduro Championship 2005 – 9th round Italy

Metzeler celebrates its 3 titles by winning also at the final round.

Schilpario, 15./16. October 2005 – The picturesque mountain scenery was the backdrop for the final round of the WEC 2005. The weather conditions, with cold, frozen dew creates problems to pilots and bikes in the morning, but compensates with beautiful, sunny autumn days after the first round.

Enduro 1: By switching the bikes with team mate Cervantes (he had already the E1 title save), the Italian Belometti could win for the first time a race in the World Enduro Championship, also thanks to the support of thousands of Italian spectators. While on the second day a nother Italian S. Albergoni, Team Honda pilot could succeed to take his first victory also on Metzeler tyres. Both pilots were overjoyed regarding their popular home wins and are just looking forward to the next season.

Enduro 2: Also at the last race of season 2005 our KTM pilot S. Aro proves his consistency in his overall performance, which leads finally to the victory of the championship E2.

Enduro 3: Knight dominated the E3 class once again for the delight of the many Manx fans that had made a special trip to Italy.

The two METZLER winners E1 from this weekend:
Belometti/KTM and Albergoni/Honda

The whole Metzeler team likes to cheer all the involved people in this fantastic result. The final outcome of this close teamwork between us and the pilots will be available on the market for the next season:

METZELER 6Days Extreme. Watch out for WEC 2006!
