

World Enduro Championship 2006, 7/8 GP, Canada

Metzeler 6Days Extreme goes West!

Metzeler is celebrating victories with KTM and Honda in North American Continent.

Perry Sound, Canada For the first time in North America, the World Enduro Championship riders were confronted with 400 kilometres of the most rugged terrain in Canada. And what a 1st day we saw! The riders had to fight with extraordinary hot and humid conditions, with sharp rocks, beautiful but difficult part trough the woods with mud hole and roots.

But the perfect combinations of the three KTM's reigning Champions I. Cervantes, S. Aro and D. Knight and Metzeler 6days Extreme dominated also the Grand Prix of Canada. Cervantes was pushed hard all day long from Albergoni/Honda also on Metzeler 6Days Extreme, who finished second. Aro continued the good form he already shown in Italy and finished first, even before Knight in the unofficial overall classification. In E3 Knight and his team-mate Tarkkala were strong like always and clearly enjoying competing in the first ever North American event.

And the 2nd day was even better. All first and second places gone to Metzeler riders. After pushing Cervantes already yesterday, the Italian rider Albergoni (total time 59:14.26), Honda could succeed to win his first Grand prix title of this season. Aro (total time 58:27.68) and Knight (total time 56:42.97) led their classes and beside of them only Cervantes and Ahola could finish under 1 hour time.

Now the rider will have only 3 days off, as already next weekend the U.S. round in Hancock 250 km north of New York will take place. Watch out for more good news!

.. but there was no problem for the Metzeler 6Days Extreme.
